GOVERNOR

Fighting for Term Limits

Term limits prevent cronyism and help drain the swamp. There's nobody in Congress who has fought harder to drain the swamp than me, and I'm going to bring that same resolve to Boise. I've firmly believe that public service ought to be just that -- service -- not a career. In fact, early in this campaign I pledged to serve no more than two terms as governor.

When politicians try to hang on to power, we get corruption and a willingness to compromise your principles. That's wrong, and why I'm the lead sponsor of a constitutional amendment to enact term limits for all members of Congress, H.J.Res.50. I'm the only candidate in this race who has been working to force a vote on term limits at the national level and will continue to be a vocal advocate for constitutional term limits for Congress.

And as your governor, I'll lead the charge to work with citizens and lawmakers to amend the Idaho Constitution to enact term limits for our statewide elected officials and state legislators.

"Term limits prevent cronyism and help drain the swamp."
